

Scottish Country Dancing

Scottish Country Dancing is social dancing and is accomplished in sets of couples (normally 4). For those that have never seen this form of dance, it can be loosely compared to square dancing.

Scottish Country Dancing will put joy in your feet and a smile on your face. Join the group for a fun evening of beginner-friendly dances and share the excitement of this lively social dance form. All you need are a pair of soft-soled shoes, comfortable clothes and a fun-loving spirit.

No experience required, you don't need a partner, you don't need to be Scottish, and no, you don't need to wear a kilt!
